WRITTEN OPINION OF THE
INTERNATIONAL SEARCHING AUTHORITY

International application No.
PCT/CN2004/001586

Box No. III Non-establishment of opinion with regard to novelty, inventive step and industrial applicability

This questions whether the claimed invention appears to be novel, to involve an inventive step (to be non obvious), or to be industrially applicable have not been examined in respect of:

☐ the entire international application

☐ claims Nos. _____

because:

☒ the said international application, or the said claims Nos. 15-19 relate to the following subject matter which does not require an international preliminary examination (specify):

mere presentations of information

☐ the description, claims or drawings (indicate particular elements below) or said claims Nos. _____
are so unclear that no meaningful opinion could be formed (specify):

☐ the claims, or said claims Nos. _____ are so inadequately supported by the description that no meaningful opinion could be formed (specify):

☐ no international search report has been established for said claims Nos. _____

☐ a meaningful opinion could not be formed without the sequence listing; the applicant did not, within the prescribed time limit:

☐ furnish a sequence listing on paper complying with the standard provided for in Annex C of the Administrative Instructions, and such listing was not available to the International Searching Authority in a form and manner acceptable to it.

☐ furnish a sequence listing in electronic form complying with the standard provided for in Annex C of the Administrative Instructions, and such listing was not available to the International Searching Authority in a form and manner acceptable to it.

☐ pay the required late furnishing fee for the furnishing of a sequence listing in response to an invitation under Rule 13ter.1(a) or (b).

☐ a meaningful opinion could not be formed without the tables related to the sequence listings; the applicant did not, within the prescribed time limit, furnish such tables in electronic form complying with the technical requirements provided for in Annex C-bis of the Administrative Instructions, and such tables were not available to the International Searching Authority in a form and manner acceptable to it.

☐ the tables related to the nucleotide and/or amino acid sequence listing, if in electronic form only, do not comply with the technical requirements provided for in Annex C-bis of the Administrative Instructions.

☐ See Supplemental Box for further details.

WRITTEN OPINION OF THE
INTERNATIONAL SEARCHING AUTHORITY

International application No.
PCT/CN2004/001586

Box No. V Reasoned statement under Rule 43bis.1(a)(i) with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability; citations and explanations supporting such statement

1. Statement:

Novelty (N)	Claims 1-14,20-25	YES
	Claims	NO
Inventive step (IS)	Claims 1-14,20-25	YES
	Claims	NO
Industrial applicability (IA)	Claims 1-14,20-25	YES
	Claims	NO

2. Citations and explanations

The invention relates to a method and system to remotely log debug information, comprising:executing a program code on a first computer system;generating debug information upon the occurrence of an error during execution of the program code;and transmitting the debug information to a second computer system via network.

D1,D2,D3,D4 are considered to be the closest prior art:

D1: JP2000-215080A

D2: CN1383070A

D3: WO0007100A1

D4: US6101607A

D1 discloses a terminal equipment,which in response to symbol transformation demand, transmits debug information, comprising :connection is recognized when a request signal is send to establish connection between circuit and relay apparatus. A desired system is designated and informed to the relay apparatus which ccesses debug information on designated system connected via virtual server. A symbol transformation demand is output for debugging the program and in response to the demand, debug information is transmitted;

D2 discloses an information processing apparatus. An authentication unit controls a monitor unit to output the monitored execution status of the program, corresponding to a debug information received from a debug communication unit. The debug communication unit transmits monitored information from monitored unit to the debugging;

D3 discloses a remote debugging method. Client program trace control information is transmitted to the client site where the client program is executed along with another code module. The code module traces the execution of client program, based on the trace control information generates a trace log in decrypted form. The trace log is then transmitted to the developer site to debug the client program;

D4 discloses a program function access limiting method. The administrator sets authorization for each registered program functions which are accessible to user via user interface. The application program interface function call is located in application program code, which is executed only if the user has authorization for accessing that program function.

It is obvious that not all the technical features in claims 1-14,20-25 are disclosed by D1,D2,D3 or D4, and further the technical solutions claimed are not obvious to a person skilled on the basis of D1,D2,D3,D4 or their combination. Thus, claims 1-14,20-25 have novelty under PCT Article 33(2), and have inventive step under PCT Article 33(3) ;

Claims 1-14,20-25 have industrial applicability under PCT Article 33(4), because remote logging mechanism claimed can be made or used in the industry.
